North American Occupational Safety and Health (NAOSH) Week 2011 May 1-7

Occupational Safety and Health Professional (OSHP) Day 2011 May 4

North American Occupational Safety and Health (NAOSH) Week occurs every year during the first full week of May. NAOSH Week aims to raise awareness about occupational safety, health and the environment.

Join us in May 2011 to help celebrate NAOSH Week. There are many activities you can participate in to get involved:

- ◆ Sponsor a child in the annual ASSE Kids' Safety-on-the-Job Poster contest
- ◆ Host a workplace safety fair at your company or in your community
- ◆ Send a NAOSH Week and OSHP Day proclamation request to your state, county or city government
- ◆ Send out local news releases on important workplace safety tips and include information about NAOSH Week in your company newsletter
- ◆ For more information, tools, ideas and past events visit www.asse.org/naosh

ASSE's 9th Annual Kids' 'Safety-on-the-Job' Poster Contest!

It's that time of year again! Make sure you participate in the 2011 ASSE kids' 'Safety-on-the-Job' poster contest, during ASSE's 100th Anniversary! Help ASSE celebrate 100 years of protecting people, property and the environment by participating in the poster contest. The contest begins on September 19, 2010 and ends February 14, 2011, Valentine's Day. All entries must be postmarked by February 14. The contest is open to children 5-14. All participants must be sponsored by an ASSE member. Members can sponsor children, grandchildren, nieces, nephews, and can also sponsor schools and children from their communities, workplaces, etc. Please visit www.asse.org/naosh for complete rules and regulations and to download a copy of the entry form.

*Note: Posters must be no larger than 11"x14" and only submissions with a completed 2011 entry form will be accepted.
